Re-Employs 60 Non-Certificated Workers

Board Hires Four Teachers, Defers Action On Budget

The Salem school staff for the 1964-65 year was completed with the employment Monday night of four instructors by the Board of Education.

Expected action on the 1965 budget was deferred until the public hearing July 13. Deadline for its approval is July 20.

The board authorized the advertisement of the proposed school and library budgets for the public airing and action on the 13th. This meeting will take the place of the regular monthly meeting the third Monday in July.

New teachers hired were Cora Ann Oana of 333 Benton Rd., George Bonar of RD 2, Carrollton, Bruce Armitage of West Middlesex, Pa., and Harriet Andreassen of St. Clair Shores, Mich.

Mrs. Oana, who will receive her bachelor of science degree from Youngstown University in February, will replace Mrs. Roma Reese, who has been assigned to a second special education class, approved by the board last night. Mrs. Reese had been an elementary teacher at Fourth St. School.

Armitage, who has been a junior high teacher the past term was named to teach high school chemistry in place of Frank Tarr. Tarr meanwhile will instruct eighth and ninth grade science in place of Francis Bezdek, who has resigned.

Bonar, who received his BS degree in education last August from Ohio State University, will be industrial arts instructor. Miss Andreassen, who has a BA from Western Michigan University, and a master's from Wayne State University, will teach junior high English.

In other action the board re-employed 60 non-certificated workers, including 12 secretaries, 22 custodians, eight cleaning women, 14 cafeteria workers, a cook, nurse, dietitian and lunch room manager. Salaries were not increased but are in accord with the present pay schedule.

Secretaries are Louise Barrett, secretary to superintendent; Margaret Hanna, secretary to business manager and clerk; Ethel Andre, payroll clerk; Catherine Bichsel, Fourth Street; Faye Duncan, pupil personnel; Henrietta Kilbreath, Junior High; Camille Malloy, Buckeye; Bernice Ritchie, McKinley; Donna Theiss, Reilly, Mathilda Youz, Junior High; Catherine

5 Dead, 12 Missing As Planes Crash

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—U.S. boats and planes were searching off Bermuda's south coast today for 12 American airmen missing after the collision of two Air Force planes during a space training mission.

The planes plunged into the Atlantic Monday as parachuting airmen were running a test rescue operation for the two-man Gemini space project.

There were 24 men in the two planes. Seven were rescued. Five bodies had been recovered Monday night.

The survivors were reported in good condition.

The two planes, each carrying 12 men, brushed wings as Air Force photographers in small boats below were shooting a para-rescue training film. A Gemini capsule was in the water below, and the planes were dropping men to simulate its recovery.

A spokesman at Kindley Air Force Base, four miles from the scene, said there were indications all seven survivors had jumped before the crash as part of the scheduled test-rescue operation.

The planes were flying at about 1,500 feet on the same course when they touched, a witness said.

Each was a propeller-driven plane.

Crowgey, clerk, Senior High; Miriam Malloy, Prospect; and Donna Durham, Senior High. School dietitian is Rachel Pandolph; head cook, Ivy Schuster, lunch room manager at Junior High, Lena Althouse; and school nurse, Mary Gonda. Cleaning women rehired are Anna Crowl, Genevieve Gologram, Maria Martens, Lydia Coy, Edna Mellinger, Betty Coy and Regina Alzner.

Clyde Wright, who has retired from his maintenance supervisor job, will be a consultant to the administration and board at a rate of $3 per hour with a maximum daily service of six hours.

He has been replaced by Dan Papic as chief of maintenance.

Custodial classifications were consolidated last night by the board in an attempt to eliminate a large number of classifications.

Salem, Alliance Boys Chosen

Bliss Scholarship Awards Go To Two

James E. Huber of Salem and Roy A. Tarbet II of Alliance today were named winners in the 9th annual scholarship awards program of the E. W. Bliss Co.

Huber, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Huber of 1157 E. Pershing St., is a June honor graduate of Salem Senior High School and plans to study electrical engineering at Case Institute of Technology.

Tarbet, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Tarbet of 2146 S. Cherry St., Alliance, will study mechanical engineering at Ohio State University.

Renewable Each Year

Announcement of the scholarship winners was made by Bliss Division Manager George Baillie Jr., who explained that the awards are renewable each year.

Huber, who will be paid $500 a month for his head coaching duties, takes over the post left vacant when Lew Higgenbotham resigned. Higgenbotham's resignation became official last night.

Fine Coaching Record

Oliver brings an exceptional coaching record to the Indians' reservation where grid fortunes can stand jacking up after a so-so season last year.

In 1958 Oliver was an assistant football coach at Miami (Fla.) Senior High School and the following year was an assistant at Seacrest High at Del-Ray Beach, Fla. Both years his teams lost one, won nine.

He left football coaching for commercial work in the nation's capital until 1962 when he was appointed assistant football coach at Wakefield High School in Arlington, Va., where his team posted a 7-2-1 record.

At Del-Ray Beach, Oliver was also head baseball and basketball coach. His baseballers won the Florida state championship in 1960.

East Liverpool Graduate

Now married and the father of five children, Eddie was a bone-crushing halfback at East Liverpool where he graduated in 1953. He was named to the All-Ohio team as a senior when the Potters went undefeated. He was an honorable mention on the scholastic All-America squad in 1952 and received a similar honor in his senior year.

Court Home From Ecuador

Beloit Forester Ends Two Years In Peace Corps

By TOM JAGER

"It's good to be back," said James Van Court, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Court of Beloit, after serving two years with the Peace Corps in Ecuador doing forestry work.

He has been home since Thursday, marking time until he can rejoin the National Park Service as a ranger.

"But I miss Ecuador and the work I was doing there, Court said. "Some day I would like to return, either for a visit or to work there."

Court, a graduate of Colorado State University in Ft. Collins in 1961, became interested in the Peace Corps because of work and research being done by the corps at Colorado State. He was graduated with a bachelor of science degree in forestry.

AFTER GRADUATION, he served with the National Park Service. After revisiting his alma mater he noticed a sign asking for peace corps volunteers in forestry to go to Ecuador. Court signed up and entered the two-month training school set up by the corps at Montana State College in Bozeman, Mont.

From there he went to Cayey, Puerto Rico, for training in the Spanish language and to study his future assignment. After completing one month of intensified training on South America, Court and 44 other peace corps volunteers went to Ecuador. In his group were boys

27 Survivors Badly Burned

15 Dead, Missing In Oil Rig Blast

MORGAN CITY, La. (AP)—A floating oil rig exploded before dawn today off the Louisiana coast leaving at least two persons dead and 13 others missing.

The Coast Guard said 27 survivors, all badly burned, had been picked up and were being taken in helicopters to this coastal fishing town.

At least 42 men were on board the floating drilling rig, which the Coast Guard said was operating 78 miles southeast of here.

The rig collapsed and sank after the explosion.

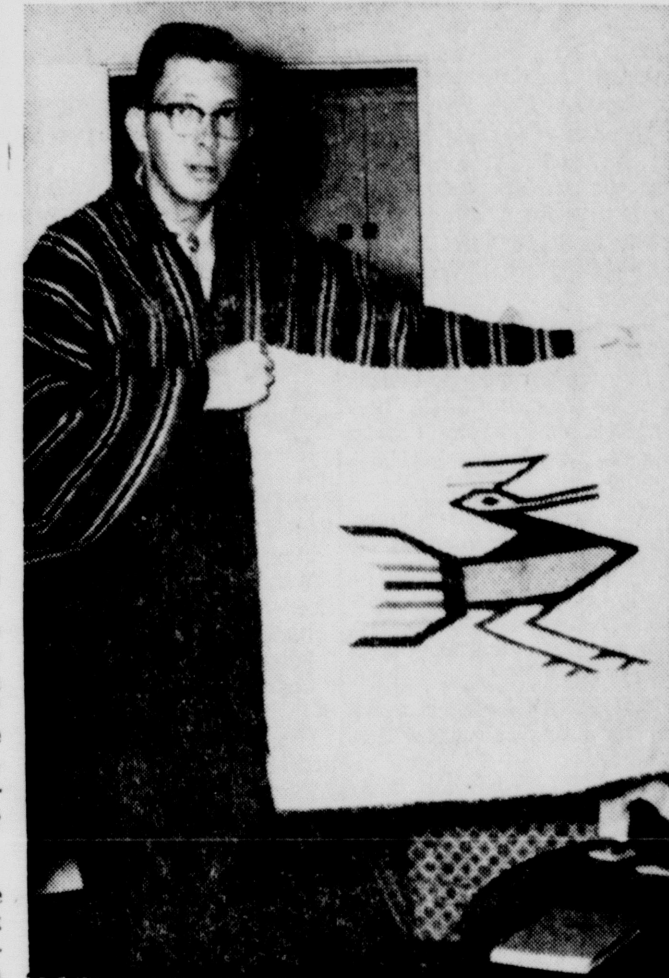

The Coast Guard cutters Point Lee and Point Young were standing by at the scene along with a commercial tugboat, the M.P. Anderson, and a small motor vessel, the West Tide.

The Coast Guard said the rig, named the C. P. Baker, was owned by Reading Bates of Morgan City, and leased to Pan-American Oil Co.

First reports from survivors said the drilling crew hit a shallow high-pressure pocket of gas at 640 feet, causing the explosion.

Fire covered the rig and the surrounding water, temporarily preventing any of the men aboard from escaping.

Then the wind blew the flames

Search for Trio Is Stepped Up

President Orders Hunt Be Expanded

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP)—The search for the three civil rights workers who vanished nine days ago was stepped up today at the direction of President Johnson.

The Mississippi Highway Patrol also made it clear it was in this red-clay hill country of east central Mississippi to stay until authorities find out what happened to the missing trio.

Ria Schwerner, 22, wife of Michael Schwerner of Brooklyn, one of the missing men, asked the President Monday to send 5,000 men to Mississippi to join in the search.

Mrs. Schwerner, after meeting with the President at the White House, told newsmen Johnson advised her he couldn't send so many.

Schwerner, 24; Andrew Goodman, 20, another white New Yorker; and James Chaney, 22, a Negro from nearby Meridian, were last seen June 21 when they were freed from jail after posting a $20 bond in a traffic case.

Before Mrs. Schwerner visited the White House, press secretary George Reedy told report-

Father Finds 2 Girls Near Death In Refrigerator

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—Thomas Miller, a city employee, was enjoying a day off at home Monday when a woman knocked on his front door.

"Your little girl is standing up on that old refrigerator by your garage," the stranger told him. "That could be very dangerous, you know."

Miller thanked her and ran to the garage.

He found his 2-year-old daughter, Kelly, playing on top of the airtight, wooden ice box. As he lifted the child to the ground, he heard a muffled cry from inside the refrigerator.

Miller yanked up the lid and found his two other daughters, Karen, 5, and Kim, 7, huddled together, their faces contorted, gasping for breath.

The girls recovered their breath and were pronounced in good condition later by the family physician.

Vicious Storm Levels Homes, Injures Scores

Manila Is Left Without Power, Transportation

MANILA (AP)—Typhoon Winnie paralyzed this city of two million today. At least 10 persons were reported drowned and scores more were injured.

The storm's winds of up to 95 miles an hour tore through populous central Luzon Island before dawn, demolished thousands of shanty homes and left Manila without power, light, newspapers and public transportation.

7 Drown In Manila

Unofficial reports said seven persons drowned in swirling flood waters in the Manila area. The communications blackout delayed word of casualties and damage in the provinces.

Rains continued but winds had subsided by late Tuesday morning as Winnie moved over the South China Sea toward the China mainland.

The Weather Bureau said the eye of the storm passed directly over Manila. The winds tore off roofing, knocked down stone and brick walls and uprooted huge trees.

Hundreds Of Cars Stalled

Hundreds of cars and buses were stalled in flooded streets. Telephone poles were knocked down and news services blacked out. Radio stations were silenced when their transmitting towers were blown down.

Manila International Airport's control tower was unusable, grounding all international and domestic flights.

The typhoon passed 35 miles southwest of the big U.S. Clark Air Force Base north of Manila, but no damage was reported there. A spokesman said aircraft were placed in emergency shelters.

Lodge Says Viet Nam War 'On the Track'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge takes time today from politicking to assure senators that the South Viet Nam war is "on the track."

But Lodge's assessment of conditions in Saigon, where he served as U.S. ambassador before resigning to help Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton try to win the GOP presidential nomination, seemed likely to encounter bipartisan criticism in an appearance before the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees. He returned to Washington Monday.

And his contention that U.S. policy in the Vietnamese war could not become a campaign issue was widely disputed by Republicans.

Lodge said in answer to a series of questions submitted by Wes Gallagher, general manager of The Associated Press, that "I don't see how it gets votes for the Republicans."

"I have not said that (South Viet Nam) should not be an issue," Lodge said. "I have said I don't see how it could be. I don't see how it gets votes—how you can make it a good issue."

"If you have disaster in foreign relations, then that becomes an issue whether the politicians make it one or not. Happily I see no prospect of disaster."

A majority of the five Republican members of the Foreign Relations group seemed likely to side with a GOP House task

Oswald Acted On His Own, RFK Says

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy declared Monday night that his brother, the assassinated president, was not the victim of a conspiracy or of communism.
The U.S. attorney general told a Polish questioner in Krakow "there is no question" that Lee Harvey Oswald killed President John F. Kennedy and "did it on his own and by himself."
Hieronym Kubiak, 25, head of the Polish Student Union, had asked Kennedy for his version of his brother's assassination in Dallas, Tex., last Nov. 22.
Kennedy replied that Oswald was a "misfit in society" and Oswald's professed belief in communism did not prompt him to murder the president.
"Ideology in my opinion did not motivate his act," Kennedy said. "It was the single act of an individual protesting against society."
There has been considerable speculation in Europe that the slayings of Kennedy and of Oswald by Dallas cafe owner Jack Ruby were part of a conspiracy. Aides said it was the first time the attorney general had spoken publicly about who killed his brother.
The question came up during the second day of his visit to Poland. Before leaving the country this afternoon, Kennedy was scheduled to go to Czestochowa, spiritual center of Catholic Poland.

Son of U.S. Army Officer Sentenced In Rape Death

BAD KREUZNACH, Germany (AP)—The son of a U.S. Army officer from Newark, Ohio, has been sentenced to 10 years in prison by a German court in the fatal raping of a daughter of an Army chaplain.
"I am deeply sorry for her parents," John Arthur Getreau, 18, told the court before he was sentenced Monday. "If I could do something to bring her back, I would do it."
Getreau, son of Sgt. Maj. Charles J. Getreau, was convicted of rape resulting in the death a year ago of Margaret I. Williams, 16.
The girl was the daughter of Lt. Col. Robert Williams of Clarksville, Tenn., chaplain of the U.S. Army's 8th Division.
The trial lasted three days.
The 10-year sentence was the maximum for the crime. Getreau may be released on parole after serving two-thirds of the sentence, and 13 months spent in pre-trial confinement will automatically be deducted from the sentence.
Because he is a foreigner and considered a juvenile by German law, he probably will be released on parole and returned to the United States after two years in prison, the court indicated.

Scranton's Contradiction

Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, who is fighting a rear-guard action to win the Republican nomination for president, has said that he would support Sen. Barry Goldwater if the Arizonian, and not he, were to be nominated.

But after reading what he said about Sen. Goldwater during his Cleveland visit Thursday, it is a little difficult to see how Gov. Scranton could reverse his field so completely as to be of any help to or exert any influence in behalf of the senator.

THE GOVERNOR made one of the most blistering attacks on the senator, short of engaging in personalities, that any politician could make against an opponent. In commenting on Sen. Goldwater's voting record, he declared: "It isn't conservatism. It's blind reaction."

"Goldwater's present policies are completely outside the context of even the conservative wing of our party," the Pennsylvania Republican told his Cleveland audience.

He then donned the mantle of the late U.S. Sen. Robert A. Taft, which is always considered good politics in Ohio, and professed to show how badly Sen. Goldwater fared by comparison.

HE EVEN WENT so far as to warn Ohioans not to burden Bob Taft for the U.S. Senate and Oliver Bolton for congressman-at-large with the Goldwater philosophy if they were forced to run on the same ticket with the Arizonian.

We do not argue with Gov. Scranton's right, and his duty, if conscience dictates to express his views on Sen. Goldwater. We simply wonder how a man who outwardly is so dedicated against the "blind reaction" of his pre-convention opponent could suddenly resolve all his doubts and retain his tone of sincerity if the Republican delegates were to decide that the senator, and not he, was their choice for the party's standard-bearer.

We can't see where the governor has left himself any escape. But perhaps that's the way of politics, rationalize it or not.

Glimmer of Hope For Cyprus

Although the explosive Cyprus dispute remains very much alive, there was reason for hope this week that the United States will at least be able to buy more time for its efforts to ease tensions between the Turkish and Greek communities.

It may not be clear for some time what, if anything, President Johnson will be able to do to effect anything approaching a lasting solution, but his separate talks with the Greek and Turkish premiers signal at least a tentative step forward.

BEYOND the talks there were other glimmers of hope that the boiling Mediterranean island struggle can be kept from erupting into a catastrophe threatening unity of the West and world peace.

The U.N. Security Council's decision to extend for three months its peace-keeping force on the troubled island should give the United States the time it needs to try to encourage direct negotiations between the leaders of the two countries.

There was encouragement, too, in Turkish Premier Inonu's refusal to resign in the wake of only the flimsiest parliamentary support for his moderate policy. This averted a government collapse which almost certainly would have opened the way for direct intervention by Turkish extremists anxious to end the weary conflict even if it means touching off full-scale war.

PRESIDENT Johnson's sole immediate objective in his talks with Turkey's Inonu and Greek Premier Papandreu has to be to keep them from resorting to military action.

While there are hopeful signs for progress, the President will have to move carefully and efficiently in his mediation efforts, for U.S. prestige is at stake.

A failure now to achieve some progress could open the way to Russian intervention. And if there is one thing the United States does not need it is a Cuba in the Mediterranean.

Starting a Long, Hot Summer

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is holding its 55th convention in Washington this week.

It is not coincidental that the Senate voted on the civil rights bill before the convention convened.

The bill's passage does not diminish the prospect of a "long, hot and discontented summer."

Thousands will presumably be arrested this summer in demonstrations will need legal representation. Close to 11,000 persons already are using the fund's services.

The NAACP includes legal seminars for more than 2,000 students who, under NAACP and other sponsorship, will participate in a "freedom summer" project in Mississippi.

Inoculate Pets

Because of the outbreak of rabies in several northeastern Ohio counties, health authorities have advised owners of pets to have their animals inoculated.

Rabies is so prevalent in Portage county that a 90-day quarantine and compulsory inoculation of dogs and cats have been imposed. Columbiana County health authorities are watching the district situation carefully. A skunk killed on a Unity farm was found to have been rabid.

Since rabies inoculations are available from veterinarians at nominal charges, there's no excuse for owners of pets to neglect this safeguard.

More than 60 lawyers have volunteered to provide legal services for demonstrators in the South and will meet at a two-day conference at Columbia University. A similar three-day seminar was held in Atlanta.

The NAACP expects "massive resistance" to enforcement of the rights bill. Probable target areas are public accommodations, fair employment and Negro voting in the South.

The NAACP, much as it has been criticized, is one of the more moderate civil rights agitation groups. Roy Wilkins, executive secretary, in his annual report to Jan. 6, said: "We are not committing ourselves to a spread of (school) boycotts. We do not believe in threatening boycotts. Our organization believes it is better for children to go to school."

But such moderation may be too bland for today's NAACP, and the NAACP stands in some danger of being engulfed. Lawrence Landry, chairman of a new rights group called ACT, told a Cambridge, Md. audience on May 11: "The radicals seek a showdown, the moderates seek an accommodation; the radicals demand, the moderates resolve; the radicals denounce, the moderates negotiate."

Passage of the rights bill is sure to be followed by continuing racial agitation. The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. has said: "We will have to demonstrate to test the bill and test the compliance of communities in the South to make certain that the rights are not just down on paper."

Abrupt End

Reuther Backs Fulbright

By VICTOR RIESEL

Strange politics makes bedfellows. So the news for today is that the militant Walter Reuther has gone far beyond the line of duty and devotion to Lyndon Johnson and is defending conservatism. Don't conclude that Reuther and Mr. Johnson have switched horses in the main stream.

He found the snide of difference. Reuther said that Fulbright's conservatism was "civilized." The insinuation, of course, was that Goldwater's is not.

All this, it seems to me, is the import of a pamphlet which Reuther's Industrial Union Dept. (IUD) of the AFL-CIO has just taken off the press. It is mainly a speech given by the gentleman from Arkansas back in 1963. The booklet has a special introduction written by Reuther.

HE PRAISES Fulbright with words which lash at Goldwater in an effort to build the "shoot from the hip" image of the Republican frontrunner. Note, for example, the phrases, "frontier-bred impatience with due process of law" and "trigger-happy bravado."

"Sen. Fulbright asks us," says Reuther, "to see ourselves, not in the distorting mirror of our self-regard but as our national character actually has been shaped — not just by the democratic tradition of tolerance and Puritanism and the frontier-bred impatience with due process of law . . . He tells us that we cannot hope to live with and overcome the dangers and problems of a revolutionary world by a mixture of crusading idealism and trigger-happy bravado."

The address to which Reuther refers is not the Fulbright Senate speech in which he called for a re-evaluation of our attitudes toward Peking. Rather the talk was one on "The American Character" delivered shortly after John Kennedy's death.

AFTER FULSOME praise for Sen. Fulbright, Reuther climaxes his introduction with: "We in the labor movement, who have been damned as traitors and subjected to the calculated violence of reactionary bigots because we dared to demand social and economic justice for working men and women, have good reason to value the civilized conservatism of Sen. Fulbright.

"Sen. Fulbright is one of our most intelligent and reasonable public servants. He has brought to his great responsibilities as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee of the U.S. Senate a group of complex matters and the courage to cut through unexamined attitudes toward frequently uncomfortable truths. The American people should do him the honor of listening carefully to what he has to say."

In labor circles, this last section is considered a rebuke to other national labor leaders in the AFL-CIO high command who recently took razor-edged exception to Fulbright's plea for a re-examination of American attitudes toward Communist China and Fidel Castro.

GEORGE MEANY has been especially angered by Fulbright's international policy. Naturally there will be sharp differences between Meany and Reuther over the publication of a defense of Fulbright by an official department of the AFL-CIO.

Nonetheless, it is done. Reuther now stands behind Fulbright. The Democratic candidates will have in their corner a "civilized" conservative to compete with Goldwater's "conservative" conservatism.

Unheeded Debt Warnings

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Congress has just found itself compelled to raise the public-debt limit to $324 billion — the highest in American history.

David Lawrence

Only vague hints are being given that maybe some day the budget will be balanced, and there is no sign as yet of any effective steps being taken to achieve that goal.

The most significant aspect of the whole problem is the general indifference with which the American people are treating the unsound trend in government finance. Maybe it's because people do not know what is really involved and what the dangers are that lurk behind the steady increases in the public debt.

Maybe it is because many government officials of the so-called liberal school of thought have been successfully brainwashing many citizens into believing that it doesn't matter how high the deficits are piled up and that an artificial prosperity can continue indefinitely when it is based on money borrowed to pay deficits.

FEW DISSENTING voices are being heard. Notable among them is that of Sen. Harry Byrd, D-Va., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. In his speech to the Senate on the raising of the debt limit he called attention to the fact that the proposed increase is the largest in 19 years. He said:

"We needed a debt limit of only $300 billion to finance World War II. That was reduced to $275 billion when the war was over. Now a limit of $330-billion-plus is in clear prospect."

The Virginia senator pointed out that $25.7 billion has been added to the federal debt in the last four consecutive years since the budget was balanced and that, according to Treasury estimates, another $12 billion of deficits are planned. He continued:

"This will be $38 billion of debt added in six consecutive years of deficit financing. The average is $6 billion a year. Deficits now planned contemplate neither recession at home nor emergency abroad.

"Such needless use of deficit-and-debt financing is reckless and dangerous. It has become chronic. The end is not in sight. We have got to stop at some point. . . .

"Interest alone is now costing the people of this country $11 billion a year. This is the equivalent of more than 12 cents out of every dollar to be assessed on federal taxpayers.

"Interest on the federal debt is now second only to national defense among the expenditure items in the federal budget. I raise the question as to how long will it be before this interest item doubles again under present fiscal practices."

WARNINGS like this have been given before in world history by courageous men. But a new school of thought has arisen lately in America which insists that a business depression is improbable, if not impossible.

There is an attitude developing that as soon as the effects of the current tax reduction wear out, another pump-priming stimulus can be provided through a second tax cut. Such tactics, however, ignore the danger of a loss of confidence by the public due to major developments in the economic world. Here, for example, are some possible contingencies:

1. A run on gold and on the dollar. This would require strong counteractive steps such as controls, tighter money — all of which would tend to depress business.

2. A speculative spree in stocks or commodities.

3. Economic trouble abroad.

4. A strike in a major industry, such as railroads or steel. This could bring a setback in general business.

5. Political developments indicating policies which involve more and more spending of money borrowed to meet budget deficits. This could foreshadow a further depreciation of the dollar.

THE IMPORTANT factor in almost every one of the possible causes of a business decline is public confidence. Peoples and governments abroad may not prove as receptive as Americans in accepting the explanations being given in this country about deficit financing or increases in the public debt.

Once confidence begins to decline in the ability and intention of the U.S. government to balance its budget and reduce its debt, there is likely to be a change in the attitude of foreign investors. They will continue to lend or invest their money only if interest rates go up higher and higher.

The average man didn't pay much attention to what was happening in the late 1920s, even though there were some danger signs on the economic horizon. It's only when the debacle really comes and confidence is weakened almost overnight that people begin to wonder why they didn't notice sooner the clouds gathering in the sky.

A steadily rising public debt and a continuously unbalanced budget form just such a cloud.

'Baby Talk' Essential

The cooing and prattle most mothers seem to instinctively lavish on their children isn't just so much "baby talk."

Psychiatrists and pediatricians now recognize such maternal "gushiness" as highly important to the emotional development of children.

The absence of such development, in turn, is a factor in mental retardation. Indeed, most authorities agree that 75 to 80 percent of the mental retardation in this country stems from a lack of emotional development.

Of course talk isn't the only thing that stirs interest, curiosity and intellect—factors which go to make up emotional development in an infant. But it is one of the most readily available means of communication between parent and child—even if they don't understand each other's words—and early communication is the basis for emotional development.

All babies, except those with congenital disorders, start out babbling and cooing. But if he child gets no encouragement—if no one coddles and talks to him—he loses interest after a while and fails to learn words when he should.

Words, and the ability to link them into thoughts, are highly important tools of learning. If these tools aren't learned, the child has difficulty developing. He becomes, in effect, walled off from the normal world about him.

It is, of course, possible to over-coddle a child. Because a rich stimulation of a child is good doesn't mean that more stimulation is better. He can be pushed too hard, made to develop too fast, and this can create its own set of difficulties.

The important thing is to make certain that your child does have a rich stimulation; that he gets the attention and the palaver he needs to encourage his curiosity, interest and imagination.

Tito's Bid for '2 Hats'

By SEYMOUR FREIDIN

Marshal Josip Broz Tito, a nimble-minded man of many assorted, a voracious appetites and talents, is full embarked at age past-72 on a course perhaps unmatched in ambition for these times. Not even Gen. de Gaulle and his broad horizons, can come close.

The triumphant heretic of the Communist world is striving to bequeath to Yugoslavia a dual international role, or two hats that can be exchanged at will. One is senior status among Communists. That already has been achieved except, of course, for Red China and its violent adherents.

The second could have more lasting appeal and operative usefulness for Yugoslavia. It covers full acceptance in the vast and perplexed domain of non-aligned and emergent nations. Tito already is an honorary Afro-Asian, despite Communist China.

That was decided in the recently concluded Trade and Development Conference in Geneva. Groupings there fell into East, West, and non-aligned from the lesser-developed world.

Yugoslavia was inscribed with the last group, a notable triumph for Tito. The consultants and power sources he built up in what is occasionally called the "third world" insisted on behalf of Tito and he won.

It was doubly enriching because it happened to coincide when Soviet Premier Khrushchev found it fruitful to be an ever-closer comrade in Communist affairs. Here, then, is the only European power personality and European nation of charter membership in the lesser-developed club and seniority among Communists.

The duality is intended as basic policy for Yugoslavia after Tito vanishes from the scene.

As Communists, the ruling cadres of the apparatus see no elementary contradiction in the duality or two-hats approach. Except perhaps with the notable exception of India, all other less-developed nations are unitary of mind and rule.

This encompassing political ground rule enables the Yugoslav party to maintain its structure. A new constitution is supposed to provide for more "democratization," less conformity and even higher principles. It looks interesting on paper. But non-conformists recently have been pitched in prison.

The state, in its present shape, is not about to wither away. Its stability and concept of permanence please observers from less-developed nations who come in great numbers to be feted and fascinated.

Few pay any heed to the fact that war-shattered and Stalin-strained Yugoslavia nevertheless was and is a European nation, already endowed with some technical standards and development. Nor is any thought levelled in the contrariness of a portion of Titoist policy towards a country like Nasser's Egypt.

Among the non-aligned, Nasser has, after Nehru's death and default, become the most prominent person in the "third world." By being a European, Tito could not hope to take over and has managed to convey his support of Nasser in Asia and Africa.

An almost over-powering togetherness binds the two. In this area, Tito is all-forgiving to Nasser, who employs some of the most vicious Nazis extant to help his Egyptian war machine. The Yugoslavs ignore the war criminals in Egypt and in Communist-run East Germany.

In sum, the Titoist view is that what is Communist-run is infinitely better than anything non-Communist, except for the non-aligned, lesser-developed nations. They are special because Yugoslavia, too, is one of them and proud to say so.

TV-Radio Today

By ALAN GILL

The Happy Educators — III
WTTW, Chicago's educational channel 11, created the nation's largest college-courses-for credits operation eight years ago in
"TV College,"

Alan Gill

and I think you should get a look at its report card.
Through the years, 80,000 students, both at home and in the classroom, have registered for 120,000 courses. With each trimester now, "TV College" enlists about 3,000 students - for credits, 4,000 students not interested in credits, and about a quarter million eavesdroppers. Electronic dropouts are few. The retention percentage — meaning those who complete the work — runs to three out of four. The average age of TV students is 30, two-thirds of them women — generally housewives whose college educations have been interrupted by the arrival of progeny No. 1. Some are mothers of teen-agers; and, in a year or two, they are planning to resume a career. One such is a mother of ten who started with the "TV College" courses when she had eight; another WTTW mother goes about with an alarm clock in her apron pocket, set to go off when Literature 211 comes on.

(At the signal, the children scatter and lie low.)

NOW THIS IS A VITAL statistic if I've ever seen one: Here smack in the middle of a teacher shortage, 40 per cent of WTTW's students plan to go into teaching.

The TV student, as you'd expect, can't rely upon the small screen alone. He does as much supplementary reading, takes as many lecture notes, performs as well in examinations as his opposite number in the classroom. For the TV student, there is constant interaction with the teacher — mail-in assignments, telephone conference hours, face-to-face conferences, trial tests, final exams.

The at-home TV student, WTTW's educators were surprised to find, learns as much or more than the classroom TV student. "Our emphasis now," said Dr. Hymen M. Chausow, Acting Dean of the Chicago City Junior College and Dean of "TV College," is on raising the achievement level of the teen-ager on the campus — his interest and his retention — to that of the home viewer."

"THE OTHER AMAZING thing we found," Dr. Chausow continued, "was that instead of alleviating the pressure on the schools the TV courses have had the opposite effect." Because "TV College" builds an appetite for higher education, actual college registrations have increased through it; and because a TV course requires classroom work for both the campus and at-home student, it tends to create an extra need for space and for a teacher's time.

The TV teacher's burden, said Dr. Chausow, is great. "Normally he has 150 students; now he has 780 to work with. He must learn how to pace a lecture and he must put in a good deal more time than the instructor on campus."

DR. CHAUSOW is full of plans for more effective contacts between TV teacher and student. He wants to reach gifted high school kids, too.

He wants to bring TV into the professions — including teaching itself. He wants to help the handicapped more than he is doing, along with the imprisoned and the mentally ill. There are, he feels, no limits to a TV university that has "no doors, no walls." One of his rewards, he concludes, is the steady stream of important visitors who come to study the WTTW operation; they represent "every state in America and every continent in the world."

This country is short 135,000 classrooms now and we could use 200,000 more teachers. Within six years, some 4,000,000 additional grade school kids and another 12,000,000 college students will be rapping at our doors. And perhaps the only way we'll be able to educate them all will be in the classroom that has no doors or walls. WTTW is showing us how.

The new custodial organization policy places more responsibility and authority in the hands of the school administration. During the regular school term, custodians will work directly under building principals rather than under a head man. In summer months Maurer will have charge of the custodial corps.

JOINT CHIEF'S CHIEF — Gen. Earle G. Wheeler has been named chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, with appointment of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor as ambassador to South Viet Nam. In the shuffle, Taylor replaces resigning Henry Cabot Lodge, and Wheeler steps up from Army chief of staff.

ON TRIAL FOR DESERTION — Only American officer ever to be court-martialed for defecting to the Communists in Europe is now before a military board in Frankfurt, Germany. In the photo, U. S. Army Capt. Alfred Svenson, 31, is being escorted into the courtroom.

were 15 girls in his group.
"ONE OF THE MISCONCEPTIONS people have about Ecuadorian climate is that it is very hot," Court said. "The weather is rather stable and the climate somewhat equatorial. From a high of 70 degrees during the day, it cools down to 40 at night. The weather actually depends on what altitude one is at," he said. "The city of Quito is called the land of eternal springtime in both weather and climate."
After their training program, Court and his fellow volunteers were placed in groups of two or larger and sometimes individually for their assignment in the country.
Court was assigned to the Ministry of Development, the agency which had requested forestry people. He was assigned to an Ecuadorian and together they worked through the 4 - F clubs which are similar in idea and scope to the 4-H clubs in the United States. Their task was to help the people plant trees and to start nurseries. Another was to teach the natives how to speak English. This was done in Court's spare time.
His job as a forestry specialist ended after six months in the field when he was "drafted" to do the paper work, purchasing, warehousing and handling of supplies for the Peace Corps in Ecuador. In this way he learned about the administrative end of the corps.
Court said that "everyone not working with his hands wore a shirt and tie. The girls wore dresses, nylon and high heels. The Beloit man brought back souvenirs, among them Indian jewelry which consisted of beads brightly colored, highly polished nut shells, necklaces made of "rhino" but heads and beetle wings." Other souvenirs included an Indian poncho and tapestries. He has others which have been shipped from Ecuador and should be arriving soon.
"I have enough stuff to start my own souvenir shop," Court said.
In Ecuador he traveled throughout the country because "people can travel very cheaply here." The bus is the main means of transportation. Unlike our buses here in the states, theirs consist of a truck fitted on the back with seats. The roads, however, are very bad. Court and others like him had to learn Spanish which is the main language of the country. "English is taught in the schools," he said, "but they have such an accent, that I had to tell them to speak in Spanish so I could understand them."
"This had to be done with diplomacy, since the people were proud of learning English," he said.

ers that efforts to find the trio had been stepped up and expanded.
Mrs. Schwerner said the President assured her that the federal government is "doing everything in its power."
The President, Mrs. Schwerner added, said he "considered it useful to send more men, then he would send more."
Federal and state authorities, joined by 100 sailors from the Navy airfield at Meridian, continued their search in the hills and snake-infested swamps of Neshoba County.
State game wardens, using radio-equipped skiffs, dragged the muddy Pearl River and other bodies of water in the area. "We've covered 55 miles of the Pearl itself and haven't found even a net," said Dewitt Hutton of the State Game and Fish Commission.
The FBI ordered several thousand circulars of the three youths distributed in a five-state area. The circulars asked anyone with information to call FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover or the nearest FBI office.
The circulars went to Alabama, Tennessee, Louisiana, and Arkansas as well as Mississippi.
The only clue to the baffling disappearance was the finding last Tuesday of the charred hulk of the station wagon driven by the three youths.
A plane should be set down or stored on its side. But when it is more convenient to store it in its normal working position, place a little strip of wood under the front of the plane so the blade doesn't touch any surface.

Copter Mark Cracked, But Eggs Aren't

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — For 101 hours the only thing between a helicopter and the ground was fresh air and 48 eggs.
Then, Monday afternoon, the copter dropped down to an altitude of three feet, the four cartons of eggs were plucked from its skids, and it sat down on hard ground for the first time since Thursday.
National Aeronautics Association referees—who taped the eggs to the skids to make sure the Hughes 200 machine made no unauthorized landings—said the 101-hour, 5-minute mark will be posted as a new helicopter endurance record.
Four pilots took turns manning the copter, climbing in and out when it dropped down to a yard above Kern County Airport. The craft also was fueled by a siphon device as it hovered there.
When the old mark, 72 hours, set four years ago by Navy flier was cracked Sunday, pilot Gene Goodman dropped an egg to the runway. It was one he had in his pocket.

Congo

With Gizenga's return, all surviving political leaders at the outset of the Congo's independence will be back in the political arena.
Gizenga claimed to be Patrice Lumumba's successor when he set up his regime in the northeast Congo after Lumumba, the Congo's first premier, was murdered in Katanga.
Also back in the picture is Albert Kalonji, self-styled god-emperor of South Kasai Province, who came out of exile the day after Tshombe returned to the Congo.
Kalonji said he was willing to reconcile with all leaders except Joseph Ngalmula, who supplanted him in South Kasai.
Tshombe said he also has been promised support by Andre Lubaya, former provincial president of Kasai. Lubaya was sent across the Congo River from Brazzaville by exiled extremist politicians who call themselves the "National Liberation Committee" and have been trying to overthrow the Leopoldville regime of Premier Cyrille Adoula.
Tshombe said Lubaya told him the Brazzaville committee was "prepared to back all my actions, without putting forward conditions."
If Tshombe succeeds in his peace-making role, he is given a good chance to succeed Adoula whose regime had been doomed by his failure to stem the rising tide of tribal war and rebellion in the eastern and southwest Congo.
A national referendum is under way on a new constitution that probably will result in a new central government.

The U.N. ended its military role in the former Belgian colony today for lack of money. There were no parades or ceremonies to mark either the departure of the U.N. troops or the independence anniversary.
A Canadian air force transport took off with 58 members of a Canadian army signal unit. A few minutes later a chartered DC6 left with 85 men of the Nigerian army's 1st Battalion.
The last man aboard was the U.N. force's last commander, Maj. Gen. J. Aiyi-Ironsi of Nigeria.

with degrees in engineering, while 17 scholarships were renewed. The graduates received their degrees from Purdue, Iowa State, Worcester Polytech, Pittsburgh University and Carnegie Tech. Renewals were awarded to students at Ohio State University, University of Cincinnati, Akron University, University of Michigan, University of Pittsburgh, Marquette University, Michigan College of Mining and Technology, Pennsylvania State, Carnegie Institute of Technology, Case Institute of Technology, Youngstown University, Ohio University, University of Iowa, and the University of Maine.
A total of 31 students are covered under the program this year.

The Bliss Scholarship program was planned to encourage qualified high school graduates to enter the fields of mechanical, electrical, welding, industrial and metallurgical engineering. Under the program, a number of students will be assisted by the Bliss Company in obtaining engineering degrees in colleges and universities of their choice. The amount of financial assistance is determined by the individual's needs.

County Mayors Assn. To Meet Thursday

The Columbiana County Mayors' Association will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Lisbon Village Hall.

MARRIAGE WITH MUSIC

LOUISVILLE (AP) — The traditional wedding marches were missing when Miss Frances Burke and William Earley were married.
Before the ceremony, guests were treated to a 45-minute full scale concert, then the couple marched down the aisle to the strains of a suite for trumpet, string and organ.
The unusual event was arranged by the bride's father, Robert Burke Jr., a music critic.

SNEAKY TRIP—Mrs. John Hirschberg, 72, didn't even tell her neighbors in Hopalong, N.J., where she was going when she left, but she came back in a mere 57 hours and 52 minutes—after a flight around the world in airliners. Mrs. Hirschberg set a record for American women making the trip.

are Annaruth Everhart, Betty Izenour, Elenora Rankin, Sara Schaefer, Greeta Thomas, Roberta Beaumont, Doris Daley, Margaret Fleischer, Orpha Hall, Marian Hary, Betty Gibb, Maxine Jackson, Edna Saftred and Mary Sidingar.
Mrs. Gladys Barton, fifth grade teacher at Reilly School, was granted a year's leave of absence.

The board agreed to a second special education class upon the recommendation of Supt. of Schools Paul E. Smith, who said there are now 26 people eligible for a high school class. "This is six more than the state department of education permits for an approved unit," the administrator said.
Mrs. Marye Fisher will be used in a coordinating capacity two periods daily to promote and supervise a work experience program for the children. Last year pupils worked at the two hospitals, at Gilbert's Greenhouse and in a local home.

"We hope to have job stations for the 13 oldest pupils," Smith said.
The superintendent said the school will receive credit for an approved unit under the State Foundation program and consequently should receive an additional subsidy for the coordination activities.
The possibility of using lay people for study hall supervision was noted, but action was deferred until the next meeting.

Ferris Wheel Mishap Fatal to Girl, 2

HUNTINGTON, N.Y. (AP)—A ferris wheel accident has taken the life of a 2-year-old girl.
The child, Deborah Shaw, died Monday nearly 24 hours after plunging 60 feet to asphalt pavement. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shaw of Commack, N.Y., who fell into another seat on the wheel, were in serious condition.
Police said the Shaws' seat apparently tipped over when it jammed and did not swing freely.

PUT OUT MINOR BLAZE

Straw covering the newly planted grass along the overpass caught fire Monday at 2:17 p.m. and was put out by the fire department. There was no damage.

Bells for Freedom Day Proclaimed By Commissioners

Columbiana County commissioners Monday proclaimed "Bells for Freedom Day" July 4 and will broadcast recorded bell ringing over a public address system at the Courthouse at 2 p.m. on the national holiday.

The commissioners took the action upon a request by Frank Earley of Salem, state Americanism chairman for Elks clubs, after Gov. James A. Rhodes authorized the Altrusa Club of Hamilton to promote the bell ringing over the entire state.

In other business, commissioners authorized payment of $47 for Wellsville for 94 dogs destroyed there during June. Travel allowance was authorized for Robert Bycroft to take a Columbiana County ward to a specialized boarding school at Elwyn, Pa., Thursday.
James Miller of Salineville, juvenile probation officer, was authorized travel allowance to take an East Liverpool area youth to the Ohio Youth Commission Wednesday.
The commissioners next meeting will be Thursday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

With Patients

Wayne McLaughlin, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis McLaughlin of RD 5, Salem, who suffered a fracture of the right ankle when run over by a tractor at his home, is in fairly good condition in Salem City Hospital where he was admitted at 2 p.m. Monday.

Richard Israel, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Israel of Beloit, was treated Monday at 4 p.m. in Alliance City Hospital for a fracture of the right arm received when he fell from a hay wagon.

Mrs. Ivan Garlock of Hanoverton is a medical patient in the Cleveland Clinic Hospital.
Donald Rogers, 18, of North Benton, dislocated his left shoulder while wrestling and was treated at Alliance City Hospital Monday at 10 a.m.

force which Monday accused the Johnson administration of following a "Why win?" policy in Viet Nam and proposed a more active U.S. role in combatting Communist guerrillas.
On the Democratic side, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon has been flailing away at the administration's course in Southeast Asia, demanding the withdrawal of U.S. troops.
Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, front runner in the GOP nomination battle gave his "full endorsement" to the task force's findings — which were critical of South Viet Nam developments in which Lodge had played a part.
Goldwater said in a statement that the report set forth "reasons why this administration's diplomatic and military blunders are a basic issue in the 1964 election campaign."

at the University of Miami (Fla.) where he starred from 1953-56.
Besides his grid mentor duties at Southern Local, Oliver will serve either as assistant or as head track coach, according to Tom Leek, high principal and athletic director.

Therapist Resigns

Besides Higginbotham's resignation, the board also accepted the resignation of Gerald Strabley, speech and hearing therapist.
The board announced that school will begin Sept. 8 rather than Oct. 1, as originally planned following the defeat of the 8.8 mill levy. The change was made after receipt of information from the auditor's office reporting that the school may borrow on anticipated tax monies or State Foundation monies at no interest.

County Supt. of Schools J. L. McBride also advised the board that new teachers needed in the district would not be interested in schools with a late opening date. An estimated $43,000 is needed to run the school a month, according to retiring clerk Robert Cole.

Three of six candidates for the clerk's position were interviewed but the employment was postponed until a check is made of regulations governing employing a minor. One of the applicants is an 18-year-old girl.

Rivals

M. Nixon and 18 uncommitted. Scranton, while on a delegate seeking drive in the South Monday, challenged Goldwater to a face-to-face debate before the Illinois delegation. The challenge was ridiculed by Goldwater, who said, "Why should I stand in front of a delegation that I already have and argue with another Republican?"

For Scranton, the meeting today will put his appeal to Republican delegates squarely on the line.

Illinois GOP Central Chairman Victor Smith, who is also cochairman of the delegation, told The Associated Press he expects the delegates to vote their preference after the meeting.
"It might be a good idea to get the delegation more or less on record and end all the speculation," Smith said.
Smith said he did not expect Scranton to fare well in his quest for more delegates. "I would say Goldwater's position is real fine," he said.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

DEAR HELOISE: While cleaning closets the other day, I started to discard my husband's wide, out-of-style neckties. Instead, I decided to make neckties for our three small boys.

I measured the proper length for little boys' ties, cut off the wide end of the tie and rehemmed the rest.

The original narrow end now becomes the top side of the tie. And don't throw away the wide part you cut off... those little make-believe handkerchiefs you see in boys' suit pockets can be made from the point their ties.

E. ROBINSON.

I think this is about the trickiest thing I have heard of yet. And to think the little tykes have a handkerchief to match. Mommy, you are wonderful.

DEAR HELOISE: My solution to the problem of keeping frozen foods frozen after grocery shopping is a plastic picnic cooler. I always keep our cooler in the car. It is very lightweight and cost less than three dollars.

It is easy to have the checker at the store put the meats, frozen items, butter, etc. in one bag and with no fuss this can be put in your cooler.

Now I never worry if I am delayed on the return journey.

C. H. HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Your tip recently about using cuphooks for hanging up small items, gave me an idea for our many toothbrushes.

Our laminated wall discouraged the use of hooks, so I got a chrome tie-rack which only needed two screws to hold it. I partially straightened the rounded ends of the hooks on the tierack and nupup the rounded ends of the hooks on the tierack and hung up the brushes neat as you please.

JO GREENWELL.

DEAR HELOISE: When wishing to give a semblance of fragrance to artificial flowers...

Take a ball of cotton and put a drop or two of your favorite cologne or perfume on it. Place this in the center of the artificial bouquet and this will cause the bouquet to emit a pleasant fragrance.

RUBY REAM.

Example: one could use gardenia perfume for artificial gardenias.

MARIANNE PERRY.

DEAR HELOISE: Small children cannot readily tell the front from the back of many garments when they are learning to dress themselves.

I sewed a small piece of colored bias tape on the inside front of pants, T-shirts, etc. I explained that the tab went next to their skin, and in front. Now, no more running to mother to find out which goes where.

Softball League All-Star Teams Selected

Face Suffers Third Loss As Bucs Bow To Dodgers 7-6

Annual Games Set for July 9

Dutch, Fernengel's Place 3 on 1st Squad

Old Dutch and Fernengel's each placed three men on the first team of the Salem Softball Association's annual All-Star selections.

Both a first and second team were picked with both squads participating in the 1964 All-Star Games to be held July 9 at Kelley Field.

Old Dutch placed hard-hitting Dick Youngpeter at first base, Jim Barnes, another strong hitter at shortstop and fire-baller Bob Carbaugh at pitcher.

Youngpeter boasts a .555 batting average while Barnes is hitting at a respectable .500 clip. Carbaugh with a 5-0 mark is the league's leading pitcher.

Fernengel's contribution to the first team are second baseman Chuck Bush, hitting .382, third baseman Ed Stefano, hitting .380 and Joe Delfavro, who plays outfield and bats at a .357 pace.

Other members of the "dream team" are rookie catcher Ron Sabo of Charlie's (.457), outfielder Bill Pauline of Salem Moose, who is tied for the league batting title with Youngpeter at .555, outfielder Jack Jackson of Charlie's (.351) and Jerry Bryson of Gold Bar, one of the leading pitchers with 6-1 mark.

Alternates on the first team are Glenn Mercer and Lefty Schmid of Fernengel's, Paul Headland of the Moose and Ken Nile of Gold Bar.

Salem Merchants led in second team placements with four. Merchants making the team include third baseman Rick Morrison, short stop Joe Carmelo, outfielder Casey Lease and pitcher Don Fife.

Other members of the squad are catcher Larry Moulin and first baseman John Eckstein of Gold Bar; second baseman Jim Weizenecker, outfielder Dave Drakulich and pitcher Hank Miller of Charlie's; outfielder John Chafin of Salem Moose and pitcher John Stoffer of Old Dutch.

Alternates on the second squad are Chuck Anderson and Bob Stallsmith of Old Dutch and John Abel of Willie's.

Managers of the All Stars will be Beanie Allison of Fernengel's who will have the first team and Mike Paster of Salem Moose who will handle the second team.

The second team will battle the W. L. Strain team of Alliance at 6:30 p.m. followed by a game between the first team and Alliance Chuck's Inn at 7:45.

County Softball Tourney Set For Week of July 27

Arrangements are being made for the Columbiana County Fast Pitch Softball Tournament to be held at Kelley Field the week of July 27, according to Jim Harrigan, president of the Salem Softball Association.

All teams in Columbiana County are eligible to compete in the tourney as well as teams outside the county which are composed of players who either work or live in Columbiana County.

Old Dutch Beer, the defending champion, is expected to be a contender again this year in the double-elimination tourney.

Entry forms can be obtained from scorekeepers at Kelley Field, at the Memorial Building or from Harrigan, who is serving as tourney director.

Athletics Victim; Orioles Win Again

Radatz Saves 4-3 Victory for Bosox

By HAL BOCK Associated Press Sports Writer

Why that's silly. Any American League batter can tell you that thing Johnny Pesky keeps calling out of the Boston bullpen is more like a machine.

Take Monday night for example. Radatz threw 32 pitches at Kansas City Athletics and 24 were strikes. It was his 40th appearance of the year and his 2 1-3 inning sting saved a 4-3 Red Sox victory.

The save, his third in two days, was the 13th of the season for the huge reliever whose 93 strikeouts give him second best total in the AL. Pesky's man in the bullpen sports a 1.62 earned run average and seems a shoo-in to snap Jim Konstanty's record of 74 appearances in one season.

Pesky has nothing but admiration for his stopper. "He's so important to us," the Red Sox manager says, "it's unbelievable."

Elsewhere in the AL Monday Baltimore stretched its winning streak to seven games with a 6-3 victory over Minnesota. Chicago topped Cleveland 5-1 in 10 innings and Washington defeated Detroit 5-3. New York and Los Angeles were not scheduled.

Radatz came on when the Athletics had reached Sox' starter Earl Wilson and reliever Arnold Earley for two runs in the seventh. He got pinch hitter Doc Edwards to fly out and then stifled the Athletics the rest of the way.

Boston shortstop Eddie Bressoud drove in two runs with a double and a triple and scored another after walking. The hits pulled Bressoud's average to .304 and ended a lengthy slump that had dropped him below .300 for the first time this season.

Robin Roberts survived two solo home runs by Tony Oliva and Harmon Killebrew's 28th circuit as the Orioles extended their league lead to 4½ games over the idle Yankees.

Norm Siebern hammered a two-run shot for the Orioles, who have won 10 of their last 11 games in their drive to the top.

Sam McDowell had the White Sox blanked for 82-3 innings but Mike Hersherberger's bases loaded single sent it into extra innings. Chicago then exploded for four runs in the 10th with run-scoring doubles by Tom McCraw and J. C. Martin the key blows.

Jim King clouted a two-run homer and Ed Brinkman delivered a long sacrifice fly to give Washington its victory. It ended a six-game losing streak for the Senators.

Claude Osteen, who won his sixth game, doubled in front of King's 12th homer in the fifth inning. Then Brinkman's sacrifice fly brought Don Lock home with the deciding run in an inning later. Lock had walked and moved up on Mike Brumley's double.

Plastow, Roberts Win Tennis Title

Doug Plastow and Dave Roberts teamed up to defeat Gary Stoddard and Jim Lantz 6-1, 6-1 Saturday and win the Junior Tennis Tournament doubles title.

The win was the second for Plastow who also won the singles championship in the 15-18 age group. Chuck Montgomery was victorious in the singles 10-14 age group.

The tournament was sponsored by the Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Pepsi Cola Bottling Co., which donated the trophies.

Junior Baseball Leagues Begin Second-Half Action

One Class E game and two each in Class F, G and H Monday marked the start of second round action in the Junior Baseball Leagues.

In Class E, Leetonia CIO 4022 scored three runs in the first inning, two more in the third and then outlasted the V.F.W. to notch a 5-4 victory.

Bill Hall received credit for the win as he hurled four innings before being relieved by Jack Falzetta. Joe Rottenborn was tabbed for the loss.

Ray DiCross smacked a four-bagger for the winners in the third inning while Dave Conrad, Tim Harrold and Terry Gongaware each had two hits.

Brook Scott had two of the losers five hits.

FISHER NEWS and Eljer were victorious in Class F action as they downed Mullins and Electric Furnace, respectively.

Fisher's exploded for six runs in the third inning and then added one each in the fourth and sixth as they coasted to an 8-3 victory.

Larry Markovich went all the way for the winners, giving up eight hits while recording 12 strikeouts and issuing three walks. Scott Cody was on the mound for the losers.

Markovich also sparked at the plate as he hammered out three singles in as many times at bat. He walked once. George Zeller had a triple and a single for Mullins.

ELJER NEEDED only four hits to win over Electric Furnace 11-9.

The victors spotted their opponents four runs, falling behind 5-1 at the end of the first, but went on to tally two in the second, five in the fourth and three in the sixth while giving up only three more runs in the fifth and one in the sixth.

Rick Royle won the game in relief while Mike was tabbed for the loss via the same route. Owen and Ken Kenst homered for the losers.

Class G action saw Brickers rally to tie the score in the bottom of the last inning against National Cleaners and then push across the winning run in the bottom of the ninth to edge their foes 6-5.

In the only other game in Class G, Scott's Sports had no trouble at all as they routed Lion's Club 18-5.

NATIONAL CLEANERS seemed in control of their game nearly all the way, scoring one run in the first and adding two more in the second before they let Brickers knot the score with three runs in the third.

The Cleaners went ahead by two runs as they scored lone tallies in the next two innings. Victory slipped through their fingers, however, when Brickers' Terry Hoopes and Dave Sechler both doubled in the last of the seventh and went on to

Cronin Announces AL All-Star Team

By BOB HOOBING Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP)—The top nine batters in the American League are on the All-Star squad completed except for pitchers and announced today by President Joe Cronin.

Al Kaline, a terror in past mid-season classics, was prominent among the latest additions.

Manager Al Lopez, as did National pilot Walter Alston, followed the players' balloting down the line in naming their second choices. Lopez also added first baseman-outfielder Joe Pepitone of the New York Yankees "because he can play two positions."

Lopez will complete selection of an eight-man pitching staff, to be announced Wednesday night. The game will be played July 7 at New York's Shea Stadium.

Chicago, now in third place but in the thick of the pennant fight all season, failed to place a man among the 17 non-pitchers. So did Cleveland and Kansas City. Since all teams have to be represented, Lopez must consider that factor in his pitching picks.

Detroit dominates the additions made today with catcher Bill Freehan and second baseman Jerry Lumpe joining outfielder Kaline who has been selected for the 10th time—second only to Mickey Mantle's 13. In 12 All-Star contests, Kaline has batted .345 with two homers and six RBI.

First baseman Norm Siebern and shortstop Luis Aparicio represent Baltimore.

Boston third baseman Frank Malone, outfielders Jimmy Hall of Minnesota and Chuck Hinton of Washington and Pepitone also were named.

Previously announced as starters were Elston Howard, Mantle and Bobby Richardson of the Yankees; rookie Tony Oliva, Harmon Killebrew and Bob Allison of the Twins; Baltimore third baseman Brooks Robinson and Los Angeles shortstop Jim Fregosi.

Hinton, Freehan and Kaline are among the leading nine league batsmen along with starters Allison, Oliva, Robinson, Fregosi, Mantle and Howard.

McKinley Nips Abe Segal At Wimbledon

By GEOFFREY MILLER Associated Press Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Things aren't getting any easier for Chuck McKinley in defense of his Wimbledon tennis championship. They just seem that way.

After all, he has yet to face veteran Australian internationalist Fred Stolle and either too-seeded Roy Emerson or German upset-maker Wilhelm Bungert.

But they're all right-handed. And brash, bounding Chuck has had his troubles with the lefties. The San Antonio, Tex., star moved into Wednesday's semifinals with a struggling 6-3, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4 decision over unseeded Abe Segal of South Africa Monday.

So far the 23-year-old Texan has lost five sets. All but one have been to lefties. Last year he didn't lose a one en route to the title.

The Wednesday semis have McKinley against Stolle and Emerson, the top-heavy favorite to win it all, playing Bungert. Each is a rematch. Bungert upset Emerson in the quarterfinals last year, then lost to McKinley in the semis. Chuck took the title with a victory over Stolle.

Bungert, possibly Germany's best since World War II, pulled another major surprise Monday, whipping Rafael Osuna, the Mexican-born U.S. national champion in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3.

Emerson advanced with a matter of fact 6-1, 6-4, 6-4 triumph over fellow Australian Bob Hewitt, while Stolle eliminated Christian Kuhnke of Germany 6-3, 7-5, 6-3.

Only they had set it a little bit wrong to start with and didn't discover until the competition was half through that it was measuring 10 feet short.

And then there were the trial heats in the 100-meter dash and the 110-meter hurdles. They were using a new photo timer setup.

So the heats were run and the judges made their picks and the results announced. Reporters busily pounded out the word. Some time later the photos were consulted.

The results in two of the heats were juggled around a bit, prompting a series of highly interesting and extremely colorful comments from the press section.

Mets Win 4-3 Over Giants

Cincinnati, Braves, Houston Are Victors

By MURRAY CHASS Associated Press Sports Writer

The flame in Elroy Face's fork ball appears to be flickering. As a result, he's not putting out fires the way he once did.

Face, not long ago one of the top relief pitchers in the majors, was rocked again Monday night in Pittsburgh's 7-6 loss to the ninth-place Los Angeles Dodgers.

The 36-year-old Pirate right-hander entered the game in the seventh inning just after a four-run rally had tied the Dodgers 5-5. He retired the first batter, but before retiring the side, he walked three batters and gave up two singles, allowing the Dodgers to score two runs, which they needed for the victory.

For his brief appearance, Face suffered his third loss in five decisions and had his earned run average soar to 5.23 for 22 games.

Face's showing followed a painful pattern that has developed for the man who won 17 straight games in relief in 1959 and who has averaged 61 appearances a season for the past eight years.

He was called upon June 21 to keep the Pirates close in a game Chicago led 2-0. However, the Cubs lashed him for two runs and three hits in two-thirds of an inning.

On June 12 he replaced starter Bob Veale in the sixth inning after the Cubs had scored two runs and had two more runners on base with two out. Face put another on before Joe Altamirano belted a grand slam homer.

In other National League games Monday, New York edged San Francisco 4-3, Houston trounced Philadelphia 6-1, Milwaukee downed St. Louis, 7-4 and Cincinnati whipped Chicago 6-1.

Here at the Country Store every one has his job and most of them through experience have learned to do it quite well.

One job which we are not experts at is collecting checks which we get back. I have neither the time nor the aptitude for this job so I have given it to someone who is more qualified than me.

Please don't feel offended if you hear from him if you give me a rubber check. Some day someone might give you one and you may have to call for help.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: After spending several hundred dollars to come to this world-famous medical center the doctor had the nerve to tell me there is nothing wrong with me.

The final consultation took one hour. The doctor reviewed the X-rays, and previous history going back 10 years. He needed the consultation by telling me that I'm in good physical condition and that I should go home and find something to keep me busy.

What he was saying was I'm healthy as a horse but I'm nuts—that I imagine the headaches, backaches and stomach pains.

When doctors can't get to the root of the trouble why do they always tell the patient his troubles are imaginary?

I must close this letter now as I feel a dizzy spell coming on and I'm due for another eye-piercing headache.—ILL, BUT NOSED.

Dear Ill: I know your type. You will now go from doctor to doctor, shopping around until somebody sells you an operation. But that won't be the end of it. You will then complain about your adhesions.

What you don't understand is that aches and pains from imaginary illness are real. The pain is there, but it is caused by anxiety, tension and unresolved problems. Only when you get your emotional machinery in good running condition will you feel better.

I'm sure your doctor tried to tell you this but some people reject any diagnosis that suggests they have an emotional problem.

Hubby Needs Sleep

Dear Ann: My husband went into a new business. He is having serious financial difficulty and the bills are mounting. Bob is bright and hard-working and I feel confident that if he stays with this business eventually he will do well.

The question is, should I go to work to help him out? I have a profession and could make excellent money. We have two children and my mother lives with us. She could take care of the house and watch the children. Mother is urging me to stay home and let Bob work things out somehow. Her battle cry is, "Once he gets used to your paycheck he'll never stand on his own."

Please tell me what to do. I feel dreadful knowing I could help my husband over this hurdle and I'm not doing it.—GUILTY CONSCIENCE.

Dear G.C.: This problem is essentially yours and your husband's. It should be decided by the two of you—and not by your mother.

Since you feel your husband needs your help, I hope you will offer it to him.

Birthday Gift

Dear Ann: My fiancé has an important birthday coming up. I asked him what he would like and he replied, "For years I have secretly wanted a diamond ring in a gold mounting." Frankly, I was shocked.

I always had the idea that only gamblers, gangsters or kept men wore diamond rings. I don't know where I picked up this notion, but it is firmly fixed in my mind. If I'm wrong will you please tell me.—IDA.

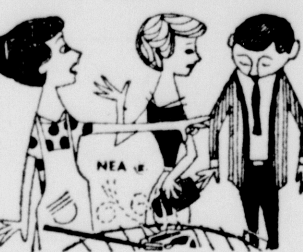

Dear Ida: You ARE wrong, and I'm telling you. All kinds of men wear diamond rings—for all kinds of reasons. It is not the trademark of undesirable characters. It is a matter of personal taste.

Confidentially

TO EXECUTIVE SUITE: Obviously the last guy in his office sells him. Your best hope is to be the last guy to get his ear before the important decisions are made.

Farm News

Weed and insect controls plus soil and water conservation practices are major items on the Monday, July 6, agronomy wagon tour at the Mahoning County Experiment Farm near Canfield. Duplicate programs start at 1 p.m. and at 7 p.m.

The topics make a lengthy important list. Alfalfa weevil (increasingly abundant in Mahoning County, promises "real" trouble in 1965 or 1966), results of different dates of planting corn, birdfoot trefoil seedlings, A.C.P. practices, quackgrass control, stock water tank care and maintenance, results of different methods of preparing soil for corn planting (conventional, compacted soil, wheel track planting, rotary hoe mounted on corn planter), long-term tillage and rotation studies, wheat varieties, sorghum and sudan grass varieties, drainage practices, and land leveler use.

This meeting is open to the public, no reservations needed. George Gist, Ohio extension agronomist will take part in the program, announced William B. Phillips, county agriculture agent.

To Name 'Typical Families' Mahoning County has a tremendous "mix" of urban and rural businesses, activities, and most important of all - people. Under these conditions there is a great need for even more understanding between various groups, points out William B. Phillips, Mahoning county farm agent. Selecting an outstanding but representative rural family and urban family for recognition of the groups they represent is one way the Mahoning County Extension Advisory Committee feels greater understanding can be developed.

Marietta Jones of Brownlee Woods is chairman of the sponsoring group. Mrs. Jones states that any urban or rural group may enter nominations by July 15. Information sheets and nomination forms are available at the Mahoning County Cooperative Extension Service, 12 W. Main St., Canfield.

Selections will be made on July 16. The urban and the farm families will be guests of the Canfield Fair for one day of this great 1964 event.

In 1963 the Delbert Zimmerman family of Coitsville was the rural family and the Albert Conrad family of Berlin Center was the urban family.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

When Children Change Neighborhoods

"To say 'goodbye' is to die a little," a poet once said. Now, Dr. F. A. Pedersen of the National Institute of Mental Health has investigated what emotional damage may be done to children by frequent family moves.

Although moving is a part of life for many persons these days, Dr. Pedersen limited his study to boys from military families. Emotional disturbances showed up in difficulties with studies and school authorities, truancy, vandalism and various neuroses.

THE DOCTOR studied 27 disturbed boys and compared them with 30 normal boys also from military families. The average age in both groups was 13 years. They had moved an average of 9 times in their lives.

One of the normal boys had moved 17 times! It seemed there had to be some factor other than moving to account for the abnormal behavior of the emotionally disturbed group. For one reason or another the mothers of these boys disliked moving and disliked their husbands' occupation. Most significant of all, they blamed the faulty behavior of their sons on the fact that they had to change schools so often.

The parents of the normal boys on the other hand loved to see new places and believed that each move was both an opportunity and a challenge which in the long run would broaden the minds of their sons.

THUS, IT BECAME evident that it was not the moves but the preconceived fear of the effect of the moves on their children that was the cause of the difficulty. This bears a close parallel to the studies that showed that a parent's fear that his normal child was beginning to stutter is actually the underlying cause of stuttering.

Q—Our 6-month-old son has had a hydrocele since birth. What do you advise?
A—A hydrocele is an accumulation of fluid in the scrotal sac. This is rather common in infancy and, since it causes no harm, nothing need be done at present. In most boys the swelling disappears spontaneously.

If the hydrocele is still present when he reaches adolescence you should consult your doctor and you should consult him sooner if the swelling is large enough to cause difficulty when he starts walking. Several different surgical procedures may be used.

Hasty Conclusions

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions: Bowlegged girls have less trouble getting dates than girls who are knock-kneed. The dogs that are the most fun to own are poodles, fox terriers and dachshunds. Bloodhounds always look like they have just lost their last and only friend.

What this country needs is a longer football season and a shorter baseball season. A lot of people who are tired of professional baseball hesitate to say so for fear that it sounds unpatriotic.

People who habitually send clever greeting cards get a reputation for witlessness they don't deserve. In most cases they are too chifless mentally to sit down and write a warm and readable letter.

It is hard to tell which is more dangerous to the nation — the cold war or the three-hour business lunch.

Why is it you never hear so much about a fellow after all his friends get together and give him a testimonial dinner?

Interconnection—honey of an idea for Ohio!

You get the direct benefit of improved electric service, because Ohio's eight busy-as-bees electric companies are interconnected.

Interconnection means they share power with each other through a large network of transmission lines—which includes interconnection with other states.

Sharing in this way helps keep the electricity you use low in price. One factor: Interconnections provide savings by reducing the amount of standby facilities needed by your electric company.

Ohio is a key state in the biggest of the nation's power pools, started more than 30 years ago. This group now includes utilities serving 39 states east of the Rockies.

Interconnection is a significant example of what is being done by investor-owned companies helping each other in a neighborly manner to serve you better!
